A connected service under your agency's brand

Offer clients a smart picture frame, wearable and daily support. Give authorized care staff a shared view of readings, medication responses and information to review between visits.

YOUR AGENCY'S OFFER

Build a paid add-on around your existing care relationships. Connect daily support at home with your team's follow-up.

One frame, daily support

PHOTO MODE

INTERFACE ILLUSTRATION

Screenless wearable

Saved readings and trends available on the frame and to authorized care staff.

Daily support on the frame

Voice or text conversations, medication reminders, appointments and guided seated stretches for the U.S. edition.

Readings your team can review

Heart rate, oxygen, skin temperature, HRV, activity and recorded sleep.

Availability depends on the band and saved data.

Family photo sharing

Invited family members can send photos and manage the frame's shared albums.

Medication support between visits

Clients see their reported medication list, receive reminders and record a response. Your authorized care team can review schedules and reminder history.

01

A clear medication list

Large cards show the saved name, dose and frequency. Clients can review or update their health profile.

02

Reminders for each medicine

Choose daily times and enable voice or supported vibration. The client answers whether they took that scheduled dose.

03

Responses for your team

Review taken, not-taken and unanswered reminder records, with scheduled times and the client's response time.

Medication follow-up

CortexAI can review reported changes and support guided check-ins. Reminder responses are self-reported. Clinical decisions remain with clinicians.

Doctor-visit instructions, kept together

Help clients bring documented instructions back to the people supporting them.
A recorded visit can add context to the next care-team review.

01

Record with agreement

The client starts, pauses and saves the recording. It can work offline, then upload when internet returns.

02

Capture the next steps

The transcript and encounter summary capture reported instructions, follow-up and uncertainties.

03

Review with the care team

Authorized staff can review the encounter, transcript and source audio alongside the client's other information.

A shared reference after the appointment

Staff can check what was documented and identify questions for the treating clinician.

CortexAI adds context to the readings

Available wearable history, reported health information and supplied records come together in assessments that help authorized clinicians decide what to review and follow up.

INFORMATION AVAILABLE FOR REVIEW

Wearable history
Recorded readings, sleep and activity trends

Health profile
Reported conditions, medications and allergies

Client records
Uploaded reports and documented doctor visits

Care conversations
Saved client statements and nurse notes

A REVIEW FOR YOUR CLINICIANS

Assessment priorities

Interval summary and relevant patterns

Medication concerns with source references

Follow-up priorities and data limitations

A dated assessment history

Reviews run every six hours and after supported record, visit or medication updates.

A shared workspace for your care team

Authorized nurses and administrators can review each client's available information and connect through the nurse-call workflow.

01

Measurements and trends

Review current uploaded data, recorded trends and history. Nurses can request a fresh supported band reading.

02

Records and assessments

Open profiles, uploaded files, medications and responses, CortexAI assessments and documented encounters.

03

Nurse calls and notes

Clients request a nurse call. A nurse accepts in the portal and joins by audio or video. Save notes and read transcripts.

Your team defines the follow-up

Agree staff access, review routines and response responsibilities before enrolling clients.
